

Fall 2024 PASS/FAIL FORM

Form must be complete and e-mailed to registrar@millikin.edu by 4:30PM on October 4, 2024 for a 16 week course; September 13, 2024 for 1st 8-week course;
and November 8, 2024 for 2nd 8-week course

DATE _____ STUDENT ID _____ NAME _____

CRN*	SUBJECT	COURSE NUMBER	SECTION	CREDIT	TITLE

Students must understand that:

3. The P/Fe P3. n not'aa nnaaf thou ge o the c21.7 (tu2-5.9 (g)16.(ted)5.(en)16.1 (ed)5.3.a)2-0.7(The.Th (g)5.6 (th)

ke courses in other areas without undue concern about a lower grade due to competition with majors in the other areas. Specifically, any course not required by the major can be taken on a Pass/Fail basis.

A pass/fail option is made available particularly to allow high achieving students in one area to take a course in another area without undue concern about a lower grade due to competition with majors in the other areas. Specifically, any course not required by the major can be taken on a Pass/Fail basis.

Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher may take no more than five courses in any term under a pass/fail option.

This option is available at the juncture and selection of a course. It is not available for courses taken on a pass/fail basis in a previous term.

This option must be elected within six weeks of the beginning of classes. The Registrar. This option must be elected within six weeks of the beginning of classes.

Pass/Fail Courses

1. May include required University Studies courses.

Students may take a maximum of two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term. This option is not available for courses that include core courses in the School of Music except with the written permission of the School. Students majoring in the College of Fine Arts may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.

2. May include required University Studies courses. 3. May include required University Studies courses. 4. May include required University Studies courses. 5. May include required University Studies courses. 6. May include required University Studies courses.

Students may take a maximum of two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term. This option is not available for courses that include core courses in the School of Music except with the written permission of the School. Students majoring in the College of Fine Arts may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.

4. May include required University Studies courses. 5. May include required University Studies courses. 6. May include required University Studies courses.

courses (e.g., internships, experiential courses) in the judgment of the faculty. This option is not available for courses that include core courses in the School of Music except with the written permission of the School. Students majoring in the College of Fine Arts may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.

5. May include some courses in addition to the above limits. These may include courses in the School of Music that are not required for the major. This option is not available for courses that include core courses in the School of Music except with the written permission of the School. Students majoring in the College of Fine Arts may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.

Students may take a maximum of two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term. This option is not available for courses that include core courses in the School of Music except with the written permission of the School. Students majoring in the College of Fine Arts may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.

6. The pass/fail option may not be appropriate for students who intend to transfer prior to the completion of their bachelors degree. Students may not take more than two courses on a pass/fail basis in any term.